

AFTERGLOW MAKES HEAVENS BRIGHT

Reminder of Great Eruption of Krakatoa in the West.

When the sun went down last evening there remained in the Western sky a glow which reddened the heavens for an hour after night should have fallen. The afterglow was of the intense shading, the apex of the color scheme extending fully fifty degrees in altitude, while the spreading upon the horizon was something like the same.

The scene was witnessed by many persons attracted by the vivid light effects, and to the kamaainas there recurred at once memories of the great sky effects seen when Krakatoa, the Javanese volcano, caused such loss of life by its immense eruption in 1883, the effect being noticed here on August 27. The lights in the sky were seen very brilliantly for something like thirty days, and afterwards for nearly a year there appeared semblance of the shadows in the upper air.

The glow in the west was most intense, perhaps, about 7:15 o'clock, and remained brilliant until half past 7, fading away from about 7:45 and disappearing at 8 o'clock.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

The Elks meet tonight. Gurney refrigerators and ice boxes at W. W. Dimond Co. Ltd.

Mr. Morgan will sell the household effects of Bishop Willis this morning at 10 o'clock at Iolani College premises.

A Home Wedding.

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of J. Koo, when his niece, Miss Caroline Speckman, was united in marriage to Sylvester P. Correa, Rev. E. S. Timoteo officiating. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present. Following the ceremony the guests sat down to an elaborate wedding feast, which was much enjoyed. The bride was educated in the local schools and is a handsome and popular young lady, with a large circle of friends. The groom is employed by the Hawaiian Gazette Co. as a linotype operator, having been in that service for eight years. Mr. and Mrs. Correa received a large number of beautiful and useful presents from their numerous friends.

A Successful Musical.

The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society musicale at the residence of Mrs. John Lucas yesterday afternoon was a social and financial success, the sum of $125 being realized for the treasury of the society. There was a large attendance of ladies and a sprinkling of gentlemen, and the program was thoroughly enjoyed. Among those who sang were Miss Charity Joy Crosson, Miss Alice Campbell, Mrs. Agatha Kelley and Mrs. Bowler. Mrs. Linderman rendered some piano selections, and Princess Kawananakoa played the accompaniment on the piano for Miss Campbell. Refreshments were served after the program was concluded and a chatty half hour was spent in discussing them.

Up-to-Date Critique.

The reproduction of Shakespeare's drama of the above title ("Macbeth") last night at the opera house, by the Frederick Ward Co. was something grand, and it was rather too heavy and severe for our comprehension. But nevertheless it was grand, and more especially Ward as Macbeth, Miss Trencott as Lady Macbeth, Herman as Macduff, and well sustained and supported by the rest of the company. The three witches were really weird in their parts. Lady Macbeth showed her ambition and the manner she made her bed do her bidding was something awful. A fair sized audience greeted the players.—Independent.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Heen will take place next Sunday, services being held at St. Andrew's cathedral at 2 p. m. In the mean time the body will lie at the undertaking parlors of H. H. Williams.

Governor Cooper has received a letter from the Interior Department at Washington asking him to look up the whereabouts of Algernon Shaw, who disappeared in Honolulu a few years ago. Periodical searches have been made for Shaw ever since but without result.

Society is agog over the Bal Poudre, which is to be given this evening in Progress Hall. The costumes for the minut are said to be gorgeous reproductions of those prevalent in colonial days and there will also be seen some stunning gowns of the most modern school. The minut is to be followed by a cotillion, concluding with a general dance.

The report of Electrical Inspector Hanson has been sent to the various heads of the government departments. Reports were sent to the insane asylum, police station, Oahu prison, Board of Health, capitol building and other government offices. In perhaps every building the wiring was found to be defective and recommendations were made for changes in the system in both telephone and electric wires.

An audience which filled the basement of the Kawaiaha church was entertained to the utmost by a concert which brought out the best local talent. The only break in what proved a very acceptable program was the absence of several members of the male double quartet who were attending the remains of their friend, David Kanawanui, who died yesterday. The program was carried through in its entirety.

Mr. Warde's Final Performance.

Mr. Warde's next performance at the opera house will be the Saturday matinee production of "Julius Caesar." This is an excellent opportunity for the teachers and scholars to witness what is probably Shakespeare's greatest play. On Saturday evening, in response to a general request, "Virgilius" will be repeated with Mr. Warde in the title role, Mr. Herman as Appius Claudius, Mr. Johnstone as Iulius and Miss Ashton as Virginia, all of whom scored such big hits in this play on the opening night of the Honolulu season. On Monday night the farewell performance by Mr. Warde and his company will be given, as they sail for San Francisco on the Sierra next Tuesday.

Inaugural Committee Meeting.

The committee having in charge the celebration of the 14th of June, 1900, which also conducted the inaugural ball, is requested to meet at the Governor's office today at 3 o'clock, where a citizens' meeting to arrange for a Fourth of July celebration is to be held. Various reports will be made and a decision reached upon what shall be done with the balance of money on hand. Subscribers to the fund are also asked to be present.

Among the Lepers.

Jack McVeigh, superintendent of the Leper Settlement, states that he has no desire to turn the kokuas out of the place without providing for them elsewhere. He would like to get them into the Lunailo Home. Regarding the woman who was given a license to practice law, Mr. McVeigh says she is not minus one of her limbs, but is an active, stirring person who is a credit to the settlement.
